

DANIELLE DUVALL, RYT-200

Danielle was led along the Yogic Path through a series of life-changing events which made her question the authenticity of her day-to-day living and evaluate whether she was truly living the life meant for her. Danielle began practicing Yoga in 2012 after a traumatic cervical spine injury. This practice has led her not only to physical healing, but also to an unexpected, but fully welcomed, spiritual and emotional healing. It is from these personal experiences that Danielle's passion for Yoga is deeply rooted and she is excited to share this love and practice with her students.

Danielle obtained her RYT-200 Certification in Vinyasa Flow in 2016 through Yoga in Common in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina under the skillful guidance and direction of Jodi Geoghan. Danielle offers a variety of studio classes and is also available for private or small-group instruction.
